SEARCH FOR CHILD IS NATION-WIDE

Little Girl Kidnapped, It Is Thought, While On Picnic Party In the Frostburg, Md., Mountains—Looking For Four Men In Auto

CARRY THE CHILD AWAY

Hundreds of Men, Women, Boy Scouts, And Officers Are Combing the Mountains, Thus Far Without Success — Kidnappers Seen, It Is Said

Uniontown, August 12.—A reward of $300, dead or alive, was offered today for the recovery of Mary Kathryn Mitchell, aged 4 years, believed kidnapped Sunday while parents were picnicking near Frostburg, Md.

The reward is offered by George Hoover, head of the concern which employs the missing girl's father as automobile mechanic.

Uniontown, Pa., Aug. 11—The search for four-year-old Mary Katherine Mitchell, believed to have been kidnapped while on a picnic party in the Frostburg, Md., mountains Sunday, became nation-wide today.

A description of the little girl was wired to every police chief in the United States and radio stations will be asked to broadcast a sharp lookout for four men seen taking the child away in a speeding automobile, police here announced.

Frantic with grief the father, James W. Mitchell, an automobile mechanic of Uniontown, urged scores of men and boy scouts to continue their efforts for another day at least in the belief that the kidnappers have hidden the girl in the mountains and are holding her for ransom.

The missing child was described as 30 inches tall, weighing about 35 pounds and has brown hair and eyes. She wore a pink dress, white stockings and black shoes. A few scars are on her body due to burns suffered about six months ago.

The child was last seen early Sunday afternoon. A short time later a report was heard that the girl was seen carried away by four men in an automobile, speeding toward the mountains.

A searching party was hurriedly formed and several hundred men women, boy scouts and police of Uniontown and Frostburg combed the mountains Sunday night, Monday and all last night without success.

Police are inclined to think that the kidnappers took the girl out of the state, but the grief-stricken parents believe they may still be near Frostburg and have requested the searchers to continue their efforts.

Mrs. Mitchell was in a state of collapse today and under the care of a physician.

The child's father said today he hoped that after the abductors learned he was a "poor man" and could pay no ransom, they would let the child go. He has received no word from the kidnappers, Mitchell said.

PIONEER RESIDENT DIES LAST NIGHT

Harrison Veranka, aged 63, well-known resident for 30 years of Charleroi, died last evening at 5:30 o'clock at his late home in 1007 McKean avenue, following a lingering illness due to asthma. The deceased had been suffering with asthma for the past twenty years, and for the past four years, has been unable to work. Since coming to Charleroi he has been employed at the Macbeth-Evans Glass company. He was a devoted member of the Russian Orthodox church, a member of the Russian lodge and the Slovak Political club, of Charleroi.

He is survived by five children, namely, Charles, of Oteen, North Carolina; Mrs. Roy Muckle of Lincoln avenue; Nicholas, Mary and Helen at home. Funeral arrangements will be announced in tomorrow's issue of the Mail.

JUST TO REMIND ROAD HEADS OF AN AGREEMENT

Supervisors of Jefferson township were at the county commissioners' office Friday, to remind the commissioners of the agreement with that township for the building, by the county, of three miles of road in that township. At considerable expense the township is constructing a concrete road, 16 feet wide, from the West Virginia state line to Eldersville. This road connects at the West Virginia state line with a road that goes out of Follansbee, W. Va. With the completion of the state line road the Eldersville residents will have an improved road into Follansbee and Steubenville, Ohio, which is across the river from Follansbee; also down to Wellsburg, W. Va., and to Wheeling.

The original agreement with the commissioners was that the county would build three miles from Eldersville east toward Burgettstown. That, however, would not give an improved road into urgettstown. The distance between Eldersville and Burgettstown is six or seven miles, a portion of which is in Smith township. There has been some talk of changing the agreement and building the three miles which the county would construct, south from Eldersville to the Cross Creek-Pattersons Mills-Avella improved road. With a small piece built in Cross Creek township, and these three miles, Eldersville would be connected up with the last named road.

EDITORIAL

A CROWNING ACHIEVEMENT.

In the annals of the history of Charleroi and the towns and community contiguous we know of no supreme effort on the part of the people that must, in its culmination, create so much of joy, so much general satisfaction, as this "going over the top" in the proposition of the hospital drive. There can be no doubt but that victory in this matter of such vital import is the crowning achievement in the history of the lives of men and women as they reflect present day population and conditions in the borough and those in the towns and community which will benefit so greatly through the new hospital building. In days to come, when the men and women of today become sacred dust, their children, and their children's children, will be able to sit by the glow of the evening fireside and tell how their forbears, through sacrifice and their dollars, made possible a contingency of lives, gave of their time and their money to achieve a desired end—and that the perpetuity of life.

It is customary in recounting the means to an end, to give credit to those who made the end possible. It is impossible, in this connection, to give each and all credit in the premises, that is, by specific, personal mention, but in a general way it must be said that the people of Charleroi, and the people of the surrounding towns and community are all entitled to all the encomiums which may be heaped upon them; say all the good things you can, and you will not be overdoing their valiant efforts and the spirit of nobleness and patriotism displayed. But to Kerfoot W. Daly, Burgess J. Bryant Tussing, Ex-Burgess S. L. Woodward, Vice Chairman John D. Berryman, President John B. Schafer, George W. Might, Mrs. C. J. Mogan, Mrs. R. C. Mountser, Mrs. Michael Rosenbloom, J. F. Wall, Harry W. Scott, James T. Heffran, M. P. Neighbor and W. J. Graef, of the Hockenbury System, Inc., of Harrisburg, and the local organization as a whole, words but inadequately express the heroism of their efforts and deeds in the culmination of the great drive. The local people [illegible] time gratuitously to a great work, and their efforts and deeds will be monuments to their memory.

It must be said that considerable credit is due Mr. Neighbor and Mr. Graef. In a few short weeks, through the system which they represent, a drive has been concluded with success even beyond the fondest anticipations of the most sanguine. These men furnished the ammunition; our people fired the guns. It all goes to show that when the people of Charleroi, the towns contiguous, and the community strive to do something which will mean human betterment, no such word as fail is in the category; that success is foreordained.

There is much preliminary work to be done ere work proper on the new structure is begun, but it is probable that labor incident to the construction of the hospital will be inaugurated, doubtless, in the spring of 1925.

Local Students Will Return From Penn State

With the closing of the fifteenth annual summer session at the Pennsylvania State College next Friday, the thirty-six young people from Washington county who have attended the six weeks' school will return to their homes. The first mid-summer commencement ever held at Penn State will take place Thursday night and the last classes will be held Friday afternoon, August 15.

The Penn State session this year was up to the usual standard and had a total enrollment of 1932 young men and women, mostly school teachers. Upon request of teachers in Altoona and Erie, branches of the summer session were operated in those two cities with a total enrollment of 186. Every Pennsylvania county was represented, and students came from twenty-two other states from Maine to Texas, and from Porto Rico. Allegheny county had the largest delegation, a total of 162 students, while Center ranked second with 140. The women students outnumbered the men, 1300 to 632.

The outstanding feature of the session was the starting of the new Institute of French Education, where teachers of French lived in campus fraternity houses and all conversation was in the French language. The enrollment of 73 for the course passed all expectations and established the institute on a sound basis for the future. Native French instructors aided Prof. H. P. Williamson de Visme in this work.

The commencement exercises on Thursday will be addressed by President John M. Thomas. He will award sixty degrees to students of the four year courses who have this summer attained sufficient credits for diploma qualification.

The following from Washington County are enrolled at Penn State this summer:

Miss Edith E. Biles, of Elco; Weaver L. Bush, Miss Lena Desetter, Norman L. McVicker, of Monongahela; Miss Ila F. Campbell, Miss Alberta E. Henderson, Miss Catherine M. Johnson, Miss Helen E. Nelson, Miss Rhoda B. Probert, Miss Martha M. Watson and Miss Evelyn M. Warrensford, of Charleroi; Miss Elizabeth C. Cooper; John C. Filby, Miss Frances P. Garver, Miss Bertha H. Garver, Miss Hazel C. Horner, and Miss Lois R. Mowl, of Washington; Miss A. Edna Giffin, of Hickory; Miss Blanche R. Gilmore, of West Bridgewater; Miss Jennie Gray, of Roscoe; Alvin J. Jolley, Miss Mildred J. Ludwig, and Harold B. Youmans, of Marietta; Miss Helen Locock, of West Finley; Miss Leila M. McCullough, of Marianna; Miss Evelyn L. Moffett, of Daisytown; Miss Mary Mores, of Vestaburg; Harvey F. Neel, of Bentleyville; Miss Alice M. Orwig, of McDonald; Miss C. D. Patterson and Chas. S. Wilkins of California; Clarence N. Riggs, of Dunns Station; Miss Helen M. Sampson and Miss Layha L. Siren, of Donora; Miss Ann E. Welsh, of Millsboro; Alvin C. Watson, of North Charleroi.

BELIEVE THAT BRIDE MET WITH FOUL PLAY

Erie, Pa., August 12—Police and county detectives searched Erie and vicinity for a trace of Mrs Herbert M. Cooley, 26, of McKeesport, a bride of less than a month, who disappeared under the most mysterious circumstances.

Mrs. Cooley, formerly Miss Alicia Tobin, is the daughter of Daniel F. Tobin, wealthy McKeesport politician.

The bride disappeared from the Lawrence hotel here about 15 days ago, but Cooley, in grief and excitement failed to report to the Erie police, and after a fruitless search, he returned to McKeesport where private detectives were put on the case.

According to Cooley, his wife left the hotel early one day saying she was going to get her hair curled. When she failed to return after a few days, he packed their bags and motored back to the city.

The girl's father with a squad of private detectives and the aid of Erie authorities have failed to find a single trace thus far, and the belief is growing that she met with foul play.

IS VICTIM OF A MOTORCYCLIST

Raymond Elewski, four years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Elewski of 126 Chartiers avenue, Canonsburg, died in the Canonsburg hospital yesterday afternoon of a fractured skull received Sunday evening at 5:35 o'clock at the corner of Adams avenue and Second street in the city named, when he was struck by a motorcycle.

The Elewski child who was accompanier by his two little sisters stepped off the curb in front of the motorcycle as it dashed down Adams avenue. The driver of the cycle did not stop but an employe of the Standard mill got his license number.

A passing autoist rushed the child to the hospital, and an operation was performed. It was thought for a time that the child would recover although it did not regain consciousness. Authorities are searching for the driver of the motorcycle.

TRAVELING MAN SENDS A DOLLAR FOR THE HOSPITAL

Mr. Editor: I am a traveling man. I travel from coast to coast. I am never in one town more than two or three days at a time. I have been traveling for one firm for twenty-five years, and during that time I have had some peculiar experiences, and among them was one last night when I was sitting in my hotel, and one of the other guests picked up your paper, looked over the first page, read the headline, something about a prize fight, then threw the paper down with the expression: "Just one story and the hospital."

This prompted me, Mr. Editor, to show this one man what a hospital means to the people of Charleroi. I told him of my twenty-five years on the road I had to explain how many times I had been taken ill, on five occasions, in a strange town. I do not want to bother you with the names of all the towns and cities. I have been in three railroad accidents during that time and on two of the occasions I was lucky and the Railroad company upon whose road I was riding took good care of me, because there were hospitals within reach, but on one occasion, over in Canada, I had my experience. I was injured in a railroad accident at 1 o'clock in the morning, in the dead of winter. It was 8 o'clock the next day when they got me to a hospital. If I took your time and space to tell you all about those things it would be an infringement on your rights, so I will close by saying that by the time I got through telling my friend of the needs of a hospital he was very changed in mind and offered to contribute his mite to the new hospital.

I am enclosing $1, Mr. Editor, which he gave me as his mite towards building a new hospital and I am only sorry that I will not receive my monthly stipend until I reach Uniontown on Monday morning, else I would surely give something to your wonderful cause.

And by the way, Mr. Editor, I have spent two days in your town and during that time I have noticed the work that is being done by the women. Truly, for small town stuff, it is wonderful. Some of the arguments that these home people put up for a hospital, for a traveling man like me to listen to, when you stand by in a business house and those young ladies

WORKERS PARADE TO CELEBRATE VICTORY

GREENE MEN LOOK OVER THE ROADS

Washington county roads and bridges were inspected by a party of Greene county officials, the visiting county commissioners and other officials on a tour of inspection.

The Greene county officials were: Commissioners A. J. Morris, William Debolt, and S. K. Strosnider, County Engineer T. B Dinsmore, and County Solicitor A. A. Purman. Washington county officials making the trip with them were: Commissioners James W. Walker, J. Elmer Johnson and W. A. Barnes and County Engineer George S. Chaney.

Bridges being constructed at Avella, Venice and on the Pittsburgh pike, near Morganza, were visited in addition to roads recently constructed and those being constructed, including the stretch at Meadowlands, which was resurfaced with Willite.

The Greene countians were favorably impressed by the system employed in road and bridge construction in this county and with the large amount of work that has been done.

Considerable work is under way in Greene county at the present time but many important routes remain to be improved to furnish highways whih will meet present traffic demands and numerous bridges, also, must be replaced.

Get $28,393 On Last Day, Then Workers Get Slovak Band And Parade, Singing And Cheering On Going Over Top

PLEDGES STILL COMING IN

Chairman Kerfoot W. Daly And Manager J. B. Tussing Thank Officers And Commanders, Captains, Workers, Mrs. Edgar Wilson, Neighbor, Graef

When the money raising campaign of the past week ended yesterday noon, the thing that many people originally thought "couldn't be done" had been accomplished—the $150,000 necessary to start work on a fireproof hospital building here, had been reached with an over subscription of $52,217 from 2261 subscribers.

So unbounded was the enthusiasm of the workers that they met last night at the Elks Club and led by the Slovak Band, paraded down Fallowfield avenue and up McKean, stopping in front of the huge score board at Depot Square where they sang one of their songs and gave one of their college yells, paraphrased to campaign use.

Leading the parade, which was made up of most of the active workers, were two live goats, making more real for demonstrative purposes the campaign goat which has been the award daily to the team having the highest total throughout the drive.

Loud praises were heard on every hand for the willingness and public spirit of the Slovak band who contributed their service in making the parade a success.

As more money is needed to equip the building, subscriptions will continue to be received at the campaign headquarters in the Borough Building. Anyone who has not already subscribed because of being been overlooked may mail or bring their subscriptions there, it was announced.

It is thought by the citizens that the $202,000 will not be enough to build the kind of a hospital this community should have, but the public spirited workers have made possible a fireproof hospital of some size.

The meeting yesterday noon which ended the campaign reported $28,393.

Mrs. John P. Ferry, Captain of team 14, was awarded the platinum bar pin as the prize for the largest total in amount of gifts among the lady workers and Jerry Calistri was awarded a gold watch for the same honor among the men. Garett E. Wagner, Captain of team 5, and a

Prevent Tuberculosis By Keeping Your Children Strong And Well

Harrisburg, Aug 12—Prevent tuberculosis in your children by keeping them strong and well nourished, is the advice of the State Health Department in launching a campaign to accomplish this end.

Dr. John D. Donnelly, chief of the field service of the bureau of child health was recently transferred by Secretary of Health Miner from the direction of the tuberculosis work in order to conduct this campaign.

"Malnutrition, fatigue and faulty posture are the strongest factors in lowering resistance, preparing for and developing active tuberculosis in the presence of exposure to the disease," said Dr. Donnelly.

"Many children suspected of having tuberculosis are undernourised and pale, with soft and poorly developed muscles and little fat beneath the skin. They are seven to 25 per cent or more, less than the average weight for a child of the same height and age.

"The majority of such children presents the picture of extreme fatigue; many are so tired that they cannot stand straight. They assume a characteristic posture with head bent forward, rounded shoulders, flat chests which expand little with breathing, hollows beneath their collar bones, protruding abdomen and a tendency to stand chiefly on one leg with the other leg bent at the knee. Frequently they have colds and show little resistance to disease.

"All parents are urged to have their children given a thorough physical examination by their physicians three times a year. Malnutrition can be prevented and cured by following the physicians advice as to cure, diet, daily routine and correction of defects. Fatigue can be overcome by preventing strenuous forms of exercise, an hour's rest in bed during the day and nine hour's sleep at night. Poor posture can be corrected readily by training."

WANTED—200 boys between the ages of 8 and 14 years to enroll in the Victor Junior campaign club. Apply at once to E. Huttner, manager of the Peoples Store, 526 Fallowfield avenue.

Bathing Will Continue Doubtless In The Monongahela River

The action of Mayor Woodward of Monessen, in placing a ban on bathing and swimming in the Monongahela river at that city will likely have no effect on other towns along the river where swimming beaches are maintained.

The Monessen mayor says his action was prompted by the polluted condition of the water at that point and the absence of municipal life savers at Monessen.

No action has been taken in the matter in this borough.

NOTICE, TROOP 1.

APPRECIATING THE BANKERS.

Ramsay MacDonald must be the despair of America radicals as well as anathema among the soviets of Russia, for in his view a banker is not always a robber or pirate and may be a well-meaning as well as a very useful person. Though supposed to represent the radicals and labor, the Premier of Great Britain differs from the La Follettes of America and the soviets of Russia in that he has the gift of common sense. After the London conference had struggled toward agreement on the German loan, under the Dawes plan, instead of joining with the La Follettes and soviets in denouncing the "financial imperialists and mercenary international bankers," Ramsay MacDonald had this to say:

"I may take this opportunity of expressing my regret that it has been so often stated that the difficulties we encountered in this part of our work were created by the bankers and financiers. They confined themselves to advising as to the state of mind of the investing public shows that Premier MacDonald understood ,as the La Follettes do not seem to understand, that the bankers were not thinking of themselves alone when they advised arrangements that would create confidence in the vast public counted on to invest in the loan.

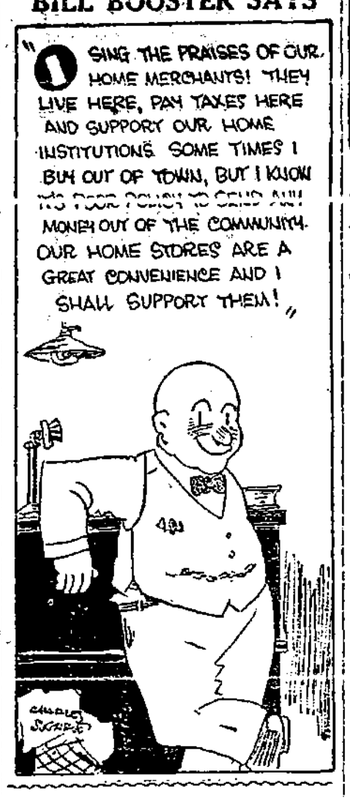
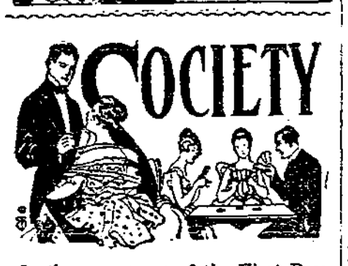
BILL BOOSTER SAYS





In the parsonage of the First Presbyterian church of Meadow avenue this morning at 7:30 o'clock, a quiet wedding of interest took place, when Miss Beryl Thomas, daughter of Mrs. Bessie M. and the late Goodlow Thomas of Park Way, Monessen, and Glenn H. Brumbaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Brumbaugh of 306 Fallowfield avenue, were united in marriage. ev. obert J. Shields, the groom's pastor, officiated at the ceremony. They were unattended. The bride, who is one of Monessen's most popular young ladies, charmingly attired in a grey traveling suit with hat to match. She is a graduate of both Monessen High school and California Normal and has attended summer sessions at Columbia University. For the past few years she has taught in the Monessen schools. The groom is well and favorably known in Charleroi, a graduate of Charleroi High school, and at the present time is employed in the office of the Pittsburgh Steel Products compa ny at Allenport. Immediately after the ceremony, the young couple left for a week's wedding trip to Chautauqua. New York, and other eastern points, and upon their return will go to housekeeping in their newly furnished home in Conrad avenue, North Charleroi.

AVALANCHE SCENE GREAT IN FILMS

Speaking of screen thrills!

There's one that ought to leave a lifelong impression on everyone who sees it at the Coyle Theatre right now. It's the avalanche scene in the Zane Grey Paramount picture, "Wanderer of the Wasteland," which opened at the Coyle yesterday and will remain until Thursday next. Irvin Willat directed the production, which was adapted from the novel of the same name by George C. Hull and Victor Irvin.

It all comes about when one of the characters in the picture, who lives with his wife alone in the desert, gets it into his head that their daughter, Ruth, played by Billie Dove, who is teaching school in a far distant town, is not his daughter. In a fit of anger in the middle of the night he goes to the top of a slope behind their shack and starts throwing boulders down onto the shanty. The larger rocks carry smaller ones with them and start an avalanche that is a bear for realism. You've never seen anything quite like it before on the screen. As the madman stands on the edge of the cliff hurling over the rocks, his foot slips and he hurtles down the precipice and is buried with the cabin under the mass.

Jack Holt, in the role of Adam Larey, has witnessed the whole thing, powerless to do anything. He leaves the desert and looks up the unfortunate pair's daughter and tells her everything and—but why go further, it would only be to spoil an evening of delightful entertainment for you.

If you've read Zane Grey's novel, you'll want to see the picture. But whether you've read the book or not, you'll go see the production anyway, when we tell you that the picture is done entirely in color. And when we say entirely, we mean just that.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

Eddie Pinchot And Chris Newton, Champion Of Canada In Feature Bout

What promises to be one of the biggest events in the way of sports this year, will be staged at the local ball park Tuesday, August 19, when the Charleroi Elks will put on another boxing show. The first show of this kind was presented about 2 weeks ago and proved such a huge success that immediate plans were formulated for others.

The fans are in for another treat as the management have signed up Eddie Pinchot, local favorite to meet Chris Newton of Toronto, Canada. Newton is the Junior lightweight champion of Canada and as Pinchot appears for the first time as a Junior lightweight, his many friends, no doubt will be on hand to encourage him.

In the semi-final, Willie Davies of Roscoe, who lookks like the greatest flyweight ever turned out in this section, will meet Joe Shurra of Pittsburgh.

The second bout brings together Judy Moraz, who made a hit in the last show against Willie Ritchie of Donora. In the opening bout "Pug" Phillips of Fayette City meets Young Cosmo of Monessen.

come in and tell their story, little do they think how true it is. Little do they know what a wonderful work they are doing.

I do not want to take too much of your time and space, Mr. Editor, but I cannot refrain from mentioning the expression of one of your workers after she had received a rebuff from a prospective contributor. His excuse was that if he wanted a hospital he would go to Pittsburgh, where he could buy a good hospital, where he would not be crowded to death for room. The answer of this young lady was indeed unique. She said:

"Mr.—, we don't need your money. We are going to put a hospital up there on the hill that will be a monument to the people of Charleroi. When we first started out we only wanted to build a hospital. Now, we are not going to stop until we get money enough to build a hospital and equip it with all the modern contrivances that the medical profession needs.

"We are going to get it all equipped with everything that is necessary, 150 rooms, nurses to take care of them, X-ray, everything, and after we get it all finished we are going to get down on our knees and pray to God that we will never have to use it. But if we have use for it, it will be there and it will be ours, not yours, Mr.—, and I sincerely hope that you will not be the first patient in our new hospital." L. E. McBride, Union Hotel, Uniontown.

PIRATES HEADED TOWARD PENNANT —CAPTURE TWO

Notwithstanding the staging of a riot on the diamond yesterday afternoon and the fact that Rabbit Maranville was taken from the game and thereby kept off the field in the second combat, the Pirates continued their sensational dash by cleaning up Philadelphia, both parts of a double-header, the scores being 7 to 3 and 6 to 4.

The big outburst broke early in the opening struggle when Manager Arthur Fletcher of the Phils flew into a rage and engaged in a fistic bout with Chief Umpire Charles Pfirman. When big Bob Hart, who was officiating at first base, ran to the plate and tried to separate the combatants he, too, was forced to defend himself with his clenched fists.

Since the "Clermont" Puffed up the Hudson

There was a lot of ceremony a hundred and seventeen years ago—when Robert Fulton proved a steamboat would run by navigating from New York to Albany. Eleven years later, and the first steamer to cross the Atlantic was launched.

What if those pioneers of advanced water transportation, Fulton and Livingston, and those doubting crowds that waited to shout when the power failed, could come back for a visit today!

Progress has been rapid and continuous—every advance has aided you and all the rest of the country to greater comforts, conveniences, safety, enjoyment, education.

Cigarettes Point Way

Mexicans working in a lead mine in Chihuahua have found a new use for cigarettes. The mine consists of a series of caves along the sides and bottoms of which lead and silver ore in paying quantities is found. The miners have noticed that smoke from their cigarettes is sucked through cracks in the rocks at certain points. By drilling in the wake of the smoke they break through into another cave.

Politeness

Little Johnny was to be taken to the movies, and as they were on their way his mother told him to be sure to be polite in everything he said. After they were seated, Johnny found that the man's head in front of him obstructed his view. Remembering to be polite, Johnny said: "Please, sir, won't you pull in your neck about six inches?"

"Sugar Trees"

The sugar of the Douglas fir has a decided value from the scientific and chemical point of view, its present price being about $70 per pound. But to most people the chief interest of its discovery lies in the fact that nature has somehow contrived to withhold the [illegible] prying eyes for so long.

Must Have Been Slow

"Mother, I'm afraid that papa was pretty slow when he was a young man." "I'm afraid you're right, Helen. He always paid his debts, and used good English, and never saw a cabaret, and hadn't any clubs, and was able to support a wife before he married—yes, I guess he was pretty slow."—Boston Transcript.

late comer in the campaign, captured the campaign goat.

The meeting was intense in enthusiasm. Everybody cheered lustily at every word of commendation for any of the leaders or workers. General Chairman Kerfoot W. Daly, Sales Manager J. B. Tussing, Vice Chairman John D. Berryman, President John B. Schafer of the Charleroi-Monessen hospital directors and division commanders George W. Might, S. L. Woodward, Mrs. C. J. Mogan and Mrs. R. C. Mountser Mrs. Bichael Rosenbloom. J. F. Wall, Harry W. Scott, James T. Heffran, also M. P. Neighbor and J. W. Graef of the Hockenbury System Incorporated, and all the captains and workers, came in for praise.

"The result of your work is more than gratifying," declared Chairman Daly as he addressed the workers and closed the meeting that ended the campaign. "Not only have you worked hard but you have worked intelligently as the loyal industrious citizens I know you to be. Our victory is exceedingly praiseworthy for you won by hard work. I give all the credit of victory to you."

"I want to thank the commanders, captains, salesmen, ladies particularly, and everybody who helped in any way to make the campaign a success. I commend Mr. Neighbor and Mr. Graef, of the Hockenbury System Incorporated, for the capable manner in which they have handled their part of the work in the campaign."

Manager Tussing also thanked the workers and thanked all the leaders who had served under him to make the machinery of the campaign produce subscriptions. The Elks Club was thanked, the girls in the office at campaign headquarters in the Borough Building were thanked; the Mail was thanked; particular mention was made of L. L. O'Kane, editor of the Mail, whose co-operation in newspaper publicity all campaign workers value and appreciate.

The campaign was a success from every standpoint, it was pointed out by various speakers. In spite of the depressing business conditions it was stated that the pledges only proved an interest of loyal citizens in being willing to support their hometown to the limit. The hot weather, vacations, unemployment and many other factors conspired to work against the campaign. But all of these obstacles were surmounted and the work of organizing and directing the campaign to the splendid success attained was the result of co-operation on the part of everyone with the plan of campaign as presented Mr. Neighbor and Mr. Graef organizers, from the Hockenbury System Incorporated of Harrisburgh, Pa.

"It has been a pleasure to work in Charleroi on this hospital campaign," declared Mr. Neighbor. "Raising this money has been so hard that the victory to all the sweeter. I am in a better position to know the work done by each individual than perhaps any one else connected with the organization and I want to pay unqualified tribute to the part of Mr. Daly's influence and leadership in the campaign. He was the kind of a man that could be sold to any community. Mr. Tussing has been a great help, always ready, always willing. The community owes him a lot for his hard work in this campaign. And in like manner I could go down through the commanders and captains and workers, through the executive committee and find reason for loudest praise for everyone who has helped in the campaign in any way."

"It is a splendid victory, and one in which there is glory for every worker connected with the organization. The victory is high tribute to the recognition by local business and professional interests of the need for a new hospital. Once the duty of its citizens was clearly understood, there was no such thing as failure for Charleroi. I have nothing but sincerest praise for every one connected with the organization. Charleroi's development and prosperity are safe in the hands of such citizens."

"The Charleroi Chamber of Commerce also deserves a word of warm praise for its part in this hospital campaign," continued Mr. Neighbor. Its membership of that organization constituted the nucleus of the executive committee and the organized workers, so far as the male personnel of the sales organization was concerned. In addition to being a source of co-operation on every point, particularly in the early days of the campaign when few people knew the struggle going on when there was not so much interest, the Chamber of Commerce was strongly back of the project. James T. Heffran, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, in addition to being a division commander in the campaign, placed at the disposal of the campaign his office and his services from the start."

"I also want to thank the Rotary Club and its President, C. S. McKean, for the interest and co-operation received from that organization."

"It would be a serious oversight not to acknowledge the active co-operation and support of the Board of Directors of the Charleroi-Monessen Hospital from the very start of the work. Every member of this board have believed the money could be raised and the officers and members of the directorate have been active and willing at all times to be of service. Their assistance had much to do with the victory."

The officers and directors of the hospital board are: J. B. Schafer, president, J. B. Tussing, Harry W. Scott, Richard A. Roberts, Mrs. Richard A. Roberts, R. B. Reeves, Stephen L. Woodward, George H. Hott, Secretary, Thomas P. Tweed, W. D. Pollock, Michael Rosenbloom.

Mr Neighbor also thanked Mrs. E. J. Wilson for playing the piano.

The high team in yesterday's report was that of Captain Wagner and team 5 division "B," commandered by S. L. Woodward. This team reported $10,075 of which 37 800 in 56 subscriptions was the personal work of Jerry Calistri. This team won the campaign goat for yesterday.

Captain F. W. Brady and team 2, division "A" won the campaign goat as a permanent award for the largest total for the entire campaign of any team. His team got $14,094. Mr. Brady has the animal on exhibit in the window of his office on Fourth street, opposite the borough building.

The high division yesterday was that of S. L. Woodward, in charge of division "B" with a total of $10,780.

The high teams yesterday were: Captain Brady and team 2, division "A;" Captain Wagner and team 5, division "B;" Mrs. Ackison acting captain for Mrs. R. C. Mountser and team 10, division "C," and Mrs. Ferry, captain of team 14, division "D."

The Allied towns have done particularly splendid work in the campaign and came in for praise from Chairman Daly, Manager Tussing and all other speakers. Because their reports are combined, figures are not available as to the record made by the teams in each of these towns, but it is recognized that each one of them did splendid work which is appreciated.

The high division yesterday was that of S. L. Woodward in charge of division "B" with a total of $10,780.

The permanent awards for the campaign were those awarded for the highest total for the entire campaign. The high team for the campaign was that of F. W. Brady and team 2, division "A." He got the campaign goat. The high team in division "B" was that of Captain Garett E. Wagner and team 5. The high team in division "C" was that of acting captain Mrs. Ackinson and team 10. The high team in division "C" commandered by Mrs. Rosenbloom, was that of Captain Mrs. Ferry and team 14. Each of the high teams got the pennant. The high division award for the entire campaign went to Commander George W. Might and division "A" with a total of $31,851. All divisions are honor divisions as all are over $20,000.

PRESS COMMENT ON DAVIS' SPEECH

The World, (Dem.), New York.—Last night John W. Davis arraigned the Harding-Coolidge administration before the bar of public opinion. They are charges of such a serious character that if John W. Davis is unable to back them up with undisputable evidence the Republican party can and will turn upon him and destroy him. If Mr. Davis cannot prove his case, he is unfit to hold any public office. If he proves his case the Harding-Coolidge administration should plead not for re-election but for mercy.

The Herald-Tribune, (Rep.), New York—Mr. Davis' treatment of the charges of Republican corruption is the portion of his speech least worthy of him. What Mr. Davis means by plain speaking is political speaking; and he evidently conceives that a wider latitude of accuracy is possible in politics than in law.

ing outlined the issues in the presidential campaign in his declaration of faith, John W. Davis, the Democratic standard-bearer, set out today to follow up his scathing indictment of the epublican administration from the Hustings.

Surrounded by the friends and neighbors of his native West Virginia hills and the leaders of his party last night, Davis, in his speech accepting the nomination took a stand squarely on the Democratic platform and appealed for party unity to bring success in November and insure performance of its pledges.

He declared that the "supreme need of the hour" is to restore the confidence of the people in their government. From President Coolidge down, none was spared from his lash for alleged contribution to this loss of faith through the "great misdeeds" of Republican officials.

Davis struck boldly at the "allied forces of greed and dishonesty," condemned the "dreamy radical and he smug conservative" alike, called for the rigid endorsement of laws against monopolies, urged higher taxes on "swollen incomes" and demanded full due for labor and the farmers. While reserving the details for carrying out the pledges in the Democratic platform he freely expressed his views on all important issues. They are in brief, as follows:

The right of labor to an adequate wage earned under healthful conditions, the right to organize in order to obtain a right to bargain for it collective bargaining through ag its of its choosing have been established after many years of a struggle. They must not be impaired by injunction Labor has a right to voice in all matters of government that directly or peculiarly affect its own right."

Remove tariff discriminations against the farmers The government by doing its share toward a European settlement shall help to revive and enlarge his foreign markets Provide active government work in he cooperative marketing movement. Supply the farmers and assist in information to aid in marketing crops Every power of government must be exerted in time of distress.

"Adequate service of transportation at reasonable rates. It is quite as important to the railroads that the farmers should prosper as it is to the farmer that the railroads should be adequately paid for service rendered.

A pledge of taxe reduction and reform.

"The rates of the income tax should be further lowered, in keeping the rule that those who derive from the common effort of society a great share of its earnings than their fellows must contribute to the support of the state a proportionately larger share. A distinction will be drawn between earned and unearned incomes."

"The exorbitant rates and discriminatory provisions of the present tariff law must be wiped out, and in their place must be written, with fairness to all and favors to none, a statute designed primarily to raise revenue and framed on a truly competitive basis."

Why the question? Is it not the law. I would hold incontempt any public official who took an oath to support the constitution, making at the same time a mental reservation whereby a single word of that great document is excluded from his vow.

A pledge in the name of the Democratic party to cooperation every peace move. A flat endorsement of the world court and the league of nations. A referendum and reservations would be left to public judgment.

To maintain an adequate national defense until reason takes the place of force.

While no organization is named, Davis denounces bigotry, intolerance, and race prejudice as alien to the spirit of America and declares it the solemn duty of Americans to oppose any challenge of this doctrine, organized or unorganized, under whatever name or in whatever character it may appear. If elected, he said he would set up no standard of religious faith or racial origin as a qualification to hold office.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving remembrance of our beloved father, Andrew Kawelkewics, who died two years ago today, Aug. 12, 1922.

A precious one from us has gone,
A voice we loved is stilled.
A place is vacant in our home,
Which never can be filled
God in His wisdom has recalled
The boon His love had given
And though the body slumbers here
The soul is safe in heaven.

How to Prevent Rust

Rusting of tools and precision instruments may be prevented by placing them in the following solution: A teaspoonful of kerosene in a glass of benzine to which a piece of paraffin, less than half the size of a pea, is added. When the solution has entered all crevices, remove it and place the instrument to one side so that the benzine may evaporate.—Popular Science Monthly.

The Extent of Freedom

"There's one thing about freedom. . . . Each generation of people begins by thinking they've got it for the first time in history, and ends by being sure the generation younger than themselves have too much of it. It can't really always have been increasing at the rate people suppose, or there would be more of it by now."—From 'Told by an Idiot," by Rose Macaulay.
